

In species with extreme maxillary crests (e.g., Hyperoodon ampullatus, pictured), landmarks and semilandmarks were placed under or around the crests as not to include them and skew the results.